

Successful HSCC Wolds Trophy at Cadwell Park

Fine racing, excellent grids and warm sunshine made the Historic Sports Car Club's Wolds Trophy another great success at Cadwell Park over the weekend (5/6 June).

With spectators welcomed back into the venue in good numbers and a full programme of 20 races, it was a great weekend of racing at the three-dimensional Lincolnshire venue.

Kevin Kivlochan eventually romped home for 70s Road Sports victory in his Morgan Plus 8 but in the early stages it looked as though Will Plant was going to add a third win to his 2021 tally. Though Kivlochan squeezed ahead of the start, Plant boldly attacked his teammate and friend and found a way ahead on the second lap.

But his glory was short-lived as the Plant Morgan headed into retirement with an electrical issue and left Kivlochan with a diminishing margin over the hard charging Lotus Europa of Howard Payne. Bouncing back from engine woes at Snetterton, Payne had a fantastic race to keep ahead of the TVR pack of Julian Barter, Dave Karaskas and Antony Ross.

It was all change on Sunday when Plant started from the tail of the grid and Payne posted an early retirement with a major fuel issue. The flying Barter put his TVR ahead while Plant charged up the order to take second from Kivlochan.
